

Automotive Air Filter Market is estimated to be US$ 5.90 billion by 2030 with a CAGR of 1.5% during the forecast period

Automotive Air Filter Market accounted for US$ 5.08 billion in 2020 and is estimated to be US$ 5.90 billion by 2030 and is anticipated to register a CAGR of 1.5%. The air filter keeps insects, dust, particles, sand, and debris out of the engine, as well as ensuring a good air-fuel mixture for optimal performance. Air filters for automobiles are available in a variety of designs, including panels, circular filters, and cylindrical filters. They're made of cotton, synthetic paper, or foam pleated material that filters the air. Before reaching the air to combustion chamber of the engine, it must pass through a filter to avoid other particles in the air that are damaging to the engine or fuel combustion. The air filters play a crucial function in preventing engine damage and improving engine performance by filtering the air before it enters the engine.

The report " Global Automotive Air Filter Market, By Product Type (Air Filters and Cabin Air Filters), By Vehicle Type (Passenger Vehicles, Commercial Vehicles (LCVs), and Two Wheelers), By End Use (Original Equipment Manufacturer and Aftermarket), and By Region (North America, Europe, Asia Pacific, Latin America, Middle East, and Africa) - Trends, Analysis and Forecast till 2029"

Key Highlights:

- In April 2021, Mann Hummel has announced that the first vehicles with Mann Hummel HEPA* filter systems will be launched on the market this year. These offer the best possible protection against air pollution in the vehicle.
- In October 2021, Nirvana Being, a premier Clean Air Solutions business in India has launched their Airific Car Cabin Air Filter which replaces the existing filter below the glove compartment and brings the air quality within the recommended WHO range in 2 minutes of switching the AC on.

Analyst View:

The global automotive air filter market is predicted to rise due to rising concerns about vehicle carbon emissions. Another element boosting the target market's growth is the widespread use of air conditioning systems in passenger and commercial vehicles around the world. Furthermore, the global market is predicted to grow in the next ten years due to rising production and penetration of commercial and passenger vehicles in emerging countries. However, rising raw material, labour, and final product costs are all issues that could limit the worldwide automotive air filter market's growth.

Key Market Insights from the report:

Global Automotive Air Filter Market accounted for US$ 5.08 billion in 2020 and is estimated to be US$ 5.90 billion by 2030 and is anticipated to register a CAGR of 1.5%. Global Automotive Air Filter is segmented into product type, vehicle type, end-use and region.

- Based on Product Type, the Global Automotive Air Filter Market is segmented into Air Filters and Cabin Air Filters.
- Based on Vehicle Type, the Global Automotive Air Filter Market is segmented into Passenger Vehicles, Commercial Vehicles (LCVs), and Two Wheelers.
- Based on End-use, the Global Automotive Air Filter Market is segmented into Original Equipment Manufacturer and Aftermarket.
- By Region, the Global Automotive Air Filter Market is segmented into North America, Europe, Asia Pacific, Latin America, and Middle East & Africa.

Competitive Landscape & their strategies of Global Automotive Air Filter Market:

The key players in the global Automotive Air Filter Market includes Donaldson Company, Inc., Cummins Inc., DENSO CORPORATION, Mann Hummel Holding GmbH, Sogefi S.p.A., Ahlstrom Corporation, Hengst SE & Co. KG, MAHLE GmbH, Robert Bosch GmbH, UFI FILTERS spa, and K&N Engineering, Inc.

The market provides detailed information regarding the industrial base, productivity, strengths, manufacturers, and recent trends which will help companies enlarge the businesses and promote financial growth. Furthermore, the report exhibits dynamic factors including segments, sub-segments, regional marketplaces, competition, dominant key players, and market forecasts. In addition, the market includes recent collaborations, mergers, acquisitions, and partnerships along with regulatory frameworks across different regions impacting the market trajectory. Recent technological advances and innovations influencing the global market are included in the report.
