The acquirer will have access to a comprehensive product portfolio in the machine-made cigar markets thanks to Agio Beheer B.V.'s subsidiary.

Analyst View:

Tobacco products do not have the same level of demand as many other consumer goods. Increases in a range of tobacco products are consistently followed by a moderate increase in both the number of individuals who smoke and the percentage of people who buy other sorts of products, according to research. The use of a number of intriguing methods in the advertising strategy has resulted in considerable advancements and has shown to be a means of remaining competitive and sustaining market dominance. Over the previous decade, most people have seen tobacco as a significant part of their life. Furthermore, a growth in cigarette sales has resulted from an increase in the average disposable income of the majority of the population.
